The Tragedie

By drunken prophefies libels and dreames, To fer my brother Clarence and the King, In deadly have the one against the other, And if King Edward be as frue and iust As I am subtile, false and trecherous: This day should Clarence closely bee mewd vp, About a prophesie which sayes that G. Of Edwards heises the murcherer shall be. Diue thoughes downe so my foule, Enter Clarence muh Heere Clanence comes, a Guard of men. Brother, good dayes, what meane this armed guard That waits upon your grace? Cla. His maielty rendring my persons safety, bath appointed This conduct to convey me to the Tower. 610. Vpon what cause? Cla. Because my name is George, Glo. Alacke my Lord, that fault is none of yours, He should for that commit your god fathers: O belike his maiefty bath fome intent That you shall be new christned in the tower, But what is the matter Clasence, may I know? Cla. Yea Richard when I doc know, for I protest As yet I doe not, but as I can learne, and an all and He herkens after prophefies and dreames, And from the croffe-row pluckes the letter G, And fayes a wizard sold him that by G, His iffue difinherised should be, And for my name of George begins with G, It followes in his thought that I am he; These as I learne and such like toyes as these, Haue moued his highnesse to commit me now. Glo. Why this it is when men are rulde by women, Tis not the King that lends you to the Tower, My Lady Gray his wife, Clarence tis fhe That tempts him to this extreamity, Was it not the and that good man of worthip Authory Woodnile her brother there, That made him fend Lord Haftings to the tower, From whence this present day he is deliuered?

We are not fafe Clarence, we are not fafe.

of Richard the Third.

Cla. By heaven I thinke there is no man fecur'd But the queenes kindred, and night walking heralds that truge betweene the King and Miftris Shore: Heard you not what an humble suppliant Lord Haftings was to her for his delivery? Glo. Humbly complayning to her Deity. Got my Lord Chamberlaine his liberty, Hetell you what, I thinke it were our way, If we will keepe in fauour with the King, To bee her men and were her livery, The jealous ore-worne widdow and her felfe, Since that our brother dubd them Gentlewomen, Are mighty goffips in this monarchy. Bro. I beleech your graces both to parden me? Hismaiefly hath ftraightly given in charge, That no man shall have private conference, Ofwhat degreee focuer with his brother. Glo. Euen fo and please your worship Brokenburg. You may pertake of any thing wee fay: We speake no treason man, we say the King Is wife and vertuous and the noble Queene Well ftrake in yeares, faire and noticalous, We say that Shores wife hath a pretty foote, Achery lip a bonny eye, a passing pleasing tongue: And that the Queenes kindred are made gentle folkes : How fay you fir, can you deny all this? Bro, With this (My Lord) my selfe hath nought to do. Glo. Nought to do with Mistris Shore, I tell thee fellow, He that doth nought with her excepting one, Were best he do it secretly alone, Bro. What one my Lord? Glo. Her husband knaue, wouldst thou betray me? Bro. I beseech your Grace to pardon me, and withall for-Your conference with the noble Duke. Cla. we know thy charge Brokenburg, and will obey, 610. We are the Queenes Abiects and must obey, Brother farewell I will vnto the King, And whatfoeuer you will imploy mein, Were it to call King Edwards widdow fifter,
